

Gerald Khoo Internship Assessment Testimonial

He is a cool, leveled headed person who are keen in learning & picking up skills that is able to enable him to manage and handle the leadership role that has been tasked to him.

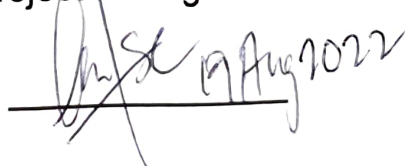

He has been able to manage impressively well and effectively with a group of Team Members that have been put under his charge. This has been proven during his course of duties when he had been tasked to lead a group of team members during a school deployment project. He has illustrated a trait of great leadership by being able to entice all Team Members whom come from all walks of lives with different personalities to work together with great teamwork as in order to accomplish the challenging tasks that have required for him and team to achieve and complete on a tight timeline where set upon for them to attain and achieve

Though he has been a humbly and soft spoken person but deep within himself has been hidden with his sense of firmness. This has been shown during his course of duties when he has been assumed with a Team Leadership role as being tasked to him. As and when come to a time that is required of him to exercise his authority as to get all team members to work together and adhere closely and strictly to the require Standard Operation Procedures where the Companies & relevant authorities has been set upon for them as required them to accomplish the jobs as per required on a stipulated timeline.

I have full confidence in him and have been very sure that he will succeed on wherever he decides to pursue in his futuristic endeavor.
